the two men were dead, while the other was alive. They had found broken glass and a bloodied knife. Lee was later identified as a triad member. In November 2008, Lee was arrested in Manila and charged with the shooting and murders of three people. Lee was sentenced to death. A brother and a friend of Lee, Davao City Mayor Sara Duterte, married Ligaya Marie Lee, who was the niece of Rafael “Ruby” Cruz, one of two wealthy brothers who were known for their loyalty to the Marcos dictatorship. Later, in 2004, when Manila became the site of the controversial Pasig River Blue Line, a common misconception is that Lee was involved in the planning of the project. This is because of her cousin, Rafael, who used to drive a truck on the old Pasig River Ferry route, but was found dead in his garage on January 23, 2004. On January 29, 2004, Lee appeared in the Pasig River Blue Line affair trial, as a defense witness to testify that she had no plans to make the city a better place. She refused to take the stand and was released after 12 days. Death On March 1, 2011, Lee was murdered in the parking lot of a car rental shop in San Fernando, Pampanga province, in the Philippines. The perpetrator or perpetrators are still unknown. Lee's body was found on March 3, 2011, lying in a pool of blood in the parking lot of the car rental shop, where a person had been shot dead on March 2. Lee was one of the most prominent cases in the Philippines where a murder took place. This made her one of the most sought-after figures by the media and law enforcement officers. It was said that she was involved in several political and criminal activities. The murder has been classified as one of the most notorious unsolved crimes in the country. Investigation and trial The victim was found to have been shot five times with a .38 revolver. It was later confirmed that the murder was orchestrated by a triad faction. The shooter took care to make sure that the victim's body was well-hidden by burying it in the parking lot of a car rental shop. As early as March 3, 2011, when her body was found, a ransom note was found at the scene. On August 19, 2011, 2d92ce491b
